

Red Kite Bee

Baby & Early Years Equipment Exchange

How does it work?

The Red Kite BEE is a forum for families who no longer need baby and young child equipment to pass it on to those preparing for the arrival of a new baby or growing toddler. Using information provided by our online Donation/Enquiry Forms, BEE will arrange the exchange of pre-loved equipment at no cost to donor or recipient. As we are unable to store donations while finding them a deserving home, if there is no active enquiry for a donated item, the details will be posted in our online “shop”, where anyone can search for their baby-related equipment needs.
